

Mona Hatoum, Roadworks, 1985, Performance © Mona Hatoum, Courtesy the artist (Photo: Patrick Gilbert)

EPISTEMIC INJUSTICE IN THE AFTERMATH OF COLLECTIVE WRONGDOING

Workshop | Friday-Saturday | Dec 6-7, 2019 | University of Bern | Hochschulstrasse 4 | Room 028

PROGRAM

Friday, 6 December:

Identifying Epistemic Injustice

- 10:00 – 11:00 Echo chambers, Ignorance and Domination
Breno R. G. Santos, University of Mato Grosso
- 11:00 – 12:00 Thinking Epistemic Injustice from the Global South: Genocide-denial, Silencing and Collective Ignorance in Turkey
Imge Oranli, Arizona State University
- 12:10 – 13:10 Genocide Denial as Testimonial Oppression
Melanie Altanian, University of Bern
- 14:30 – 15:30 False Confessions, the Criminal Justice System, and Testimonial Injustice
Jennifer Lackey, Northwestern University
- 15:45 – 16:45 Capital Vices, Institutional Failures, and Epistemic Neglect in a County Jail
José Medina, Northwestern University

Saturday, 7 December:

Remedying Epistemic Injustice

- 10:00 – 11:00 The Significance of Intellectual Self-Trust – Individual and Collective – in Tackling Epistemic Injustice
Nadja El Kassar, University of Zurich
- 11:00 – 12:00 Horizontal Attention and Epistemic Repair
Gaile Pohlhaus, Miami University
- 12:10 – 13:10 “The Girl Who Cried Wolf”: #MeToo, Testimonial Injustice, and Feminist Solidarity
Hilkje Hänel, Free University Berlin
- 14:30 – 15:30 Epistemic Injustice and Indigenous Peoples in the Inter-American Human Rights System
Dina Townsend, University of Tilburg
Leo Townsend, University of Vienna
- 15:45 – 16:45 Rectifying Hermeneutical Injustice in the “Comfort Women” Issue through Interactional and Structural Acknowledgment
Seunghyun Song, University of Graz

Organized by | Melanie Altanian | melanie.altanian@philo.unibe.ch | in cooperation with the Institute of Philosophy | University of Bern